Senior Services Plans Special Final Friday Celebration

Two of the world's best-known explorers, Martin and Osa Johnson, continue to draw the interest of international scholars, who visit the Safari Museum in Chanute, Kan., for research opportunities, as well as the general public, who thrill to the romance and the adventures that mark the Johnsons' lives.

Opened in 1961, the Safari Museum serves as the repository for award-winning exhibits of the Johnsons' lives and adventures, African art and culture, movies, books, and changing special exhibits. In September, some of that museum experience will be coming to the Downtown Senior Center in Wichita as part of a special Final Friday celebration hosted by Senior Services, Inc., of Wichita.

At 6 p.m. Sept. 25, doors will open for a short reception, followed by introductions and a documentary film at 6:45 p.m. Jacquelyn Borgeson Zimmer, curator of the museum, will present a brief talk on the Johnsons.

From 1917 to 1936, the Johnsons set up camp in some of the most remote areas of the world, and provided an unmatched photographic record of the wildernesses of Kenya, the Congo, British North Borneo, and the Solomon and New Hebrides Islands. Through popular movies such as Simba and Babooona, and best-selling books like I Married Adventure, Martin and Osa popularized camera safaris and an interest in African wildlife conservation. Their legacy is a record of animals and cultures of many remote areas of the world.

A graphic celebrating the 75th anniversary of the film 'I Married Adventure'. It features a central collage of three images: a portrait of Osa Johnson, a hand holding a clapperboard, and the movie poster. Text on the graphic includes 'I MARRIED ADVENTURE BOOK MAY 17 1940' at the top right, '75TH ANNIVERSARY' in large yellow letters on the left, and '1940 FILM SEPTEMBER 23' at the bottom right.

The program and film are open to the public free of charge, but RSVPs are requested. Please call Anna at 267-0302, ext. 200, to make your reservation, and plan on joining us for what promises to be an unparalleled adventure!

Retired Hairdresser Finds New Meaning At Orchard Park Center

When Irene Leiker moved to Wichita from Hays six years ago, the only people she knew were her daughter and family.

Irene had a 50-year career as a hairdresser, so she was accustomed to visiting with clients all day. She quickly realized that as much as she loved her family, she also needed some friends and outside social activities. She decided to join Orchard Park Senior Center, and soon found herself caught up in a number of educational, fitness and social opportunities.

“What I gain here is exceptional,” she says. “We have a lot of nice people. I enjoy Stretch and Tone and the activities, and I have made some very good friends. We go on trips and out to eat.”

Irene notes she has learned a lot at the numerous educational sessions. “We’ve had good programs here. They say you need to learn one thing a day and I do, every time I come here.”
